BIGGEST DOLLAR'S WORTH IS PROMISED FOR JUNIOR FAIR

Horse Show, Exhibits, Kiddie Rides, Grandstand Entertainment, Stock Sale Will Feature Fair That Opens May 19

Offering the biggest dollar's worth of entertainment in America will again be the objective of directors of the Porterville Junior Livestock Show and Fair when this 1955 event opens at the Porterville fair grounds May 19 for a run of three days and nights.

Program will include a junior horse show, sponsored by Porterville's Canterbelles the afternoon of May 19; judging of champion livestock shown by Future Farmer and 4-H Club exhibitors of southeastern Tulare county; annual junior fat stock sale the final afternoon of the show; a free breakfast opening morning and a bigger and better display of commercial exhibits than ever before shown.

The fair will again feature some of the best outdoor acts available on the west coast in the grandstand show that will be presented nightly, and several kiddie rides have been booked.

Admission price of one dollar

FAMOUS QUARTET TO SING AT FAIR

The Ranger Quartet, prominent southern California singing group of television fame, will appear the evening of May 20 at the Porterville fair, it was announced this morning by J. E. Wheeler. The quartet will appear in connection with the Wheeler Furniture company commercial display.

MEAT COOKING school, to be sponsored at the Monache theatre in Porterville next Thursday by the Tulare County Cow Belles, Tulare County Beef Promotion committee and the U. S. department of agriculture, will feature Mildred Hummel, above, home economist with the Southern California Edison company, and Miss Katherine Nawn, meat specialist from the USDA. All interested women are invited to attend the demonstration; there is no admission charge.

covers all fair events, including the grandstand show; special prices will be announced for students and small children, also for a season ticket into the fair.

HORSE SHOW

The junior horse show, with eight events, is designed for riders from eight to 18 years of age. Uly Priftike is general chairman; entry blanks may be obtained from Mr. Priftike, from members of the Canterbelle organization and at The Farm Tribune office.

The show is scheduled to start at 4:00 p.m. on May 19; it will be concluded prior to start of the evening grandstand show.

JUDGING

All livestock, poultry and rabbit entries must be filed with Rolla Bishop, secretary of the Fair board, not later than May 14; all livestock exhibits must be

Strathmore Homecoming Event Friday

Annual homecoming program for former residents of Strathmore and graduates of Strathmore high school is scheduled for tomorrow, Friday, with the program to open at 2:00 p.m. with a tea to be served at the Strathmore Town and Country club.

At 3:00 p.m., Strathmore junior varsity meets Lindsay in a baseball game at the Memorial building grounds; at the same time, the Strathmore varsity meets the Lindsay varsity on the high school grounds.

A barbecue and program is planned for 6:00 p.m. at the Memorial building; at 7:30 p.m. an alumni meeting will be held at the Memorial building, followed by a dance, starting at 9:30, with music by the Les Kirby orchestra.

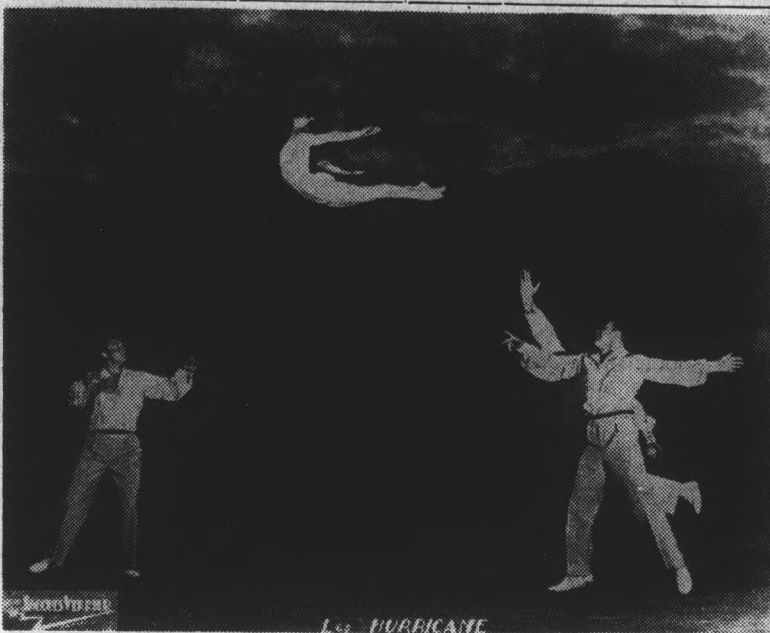

Menu for the barbecue is steak and beans; the event is sponsored by the Strathmore chamber of commerce, with women of the Town and Country club, and members of other civic groups, assisting.

WOMEN INVITED TO MEAT COOKING SCHOOL THURSDAY

Women of the community — and interested men as well — are invited to attend a meat selection and cooking school to be held at the Monache Theatre in Porterville next Thursday, May 12, at 1:30 p.m.

Mildred Hummel, home economist with the Southern California Edison company, will demonstrate the cooking of meat; Miss Katherine Nawn, from the U. S. department of agriculture, will demonstrate selection of meat cuts.

The program is being sponsored by the Tulare County Cow Belles, the Tulare County Beef Promotion committee and the U. S. department of agriculture. There is no admission charge; a number of door prizes will be given.

TWO OF the sensational grandstand acts that will be presented the evenings of May 19, 20 and 21 at the Porterville Junior Livestock Show and Fair are shown here — Les Hurricane, above, a top flight acrobatic adagio team of four men and a girl, and, right, the Baretis family on the high trapeze, featuring twin sway poles at 120 feet in the air.

Cloud Seeding Operation Is Ended With Work On Late-Season Storm That Moved In Over Last Weekend

By Bill Reece

Cloud-seeding in the Tulare and Kern county areas came to an official but unexpected wet climax last Saturday at midnight as a late season storm moved into the area to help usher out the 1954-55 precipitation control program under the sponsorship of the Southern Sierra corporation of Porterville, a non-profit organization comprising some 250 members, namely cattlemen and dry land grain farmers.

The late season storm was under almost constant seeding by pilots of the Precipitation Control company of Bakersfield, who worked the clouds for some 20 hours in an effort to wring the last drop of rain and snow from the sky before suspending operations for the current season.

During the six month seeding program a total of 140 hours of flight time were logged by the special equipped aircraft at a cost of $32,000 dollars. This cost was borne for the most part by individual ranchers and farmers residing in the two county areas who subscribed approximately $20,000 on a voluntary assessment basis of five cents per acre for grazing and 10 cents per acre for farmland. The remainder came

Great Day For The Kids — Of All Ages

By Bill Rodgers

Tuesday was a great day for the kids — kids up to 70 years of age, in fact — as the Clyde Beatty circus played Porterville, the first major circus to hit town in many years.

And Wednesday morning was a great day for parents, what with the circus gone and with households returning to normal, even though there was considerably less inclination for the small fry to jump out of bed than on circus day.

As for the circus itself, it was a great show and Mr. Beatty proved to be a great showman in a cage full of lions and tigers.

Mystery Farm

Mystery Farm Winner last week was Kenneth Martin of Route 2, Box 54, Porterville, who identified the Elmco Vineyards farm photo that appeared in the Hastings Equipment company ad. This week's Mystery Farm appears on page 3; if you know whose farm it is, drop in at Hastings Equipment company, fill in a contest blank, and, if your name is drawn next Wednesday, you will receive a free aerial photo of your ranch or home.

County 4-H Fair Set For Tulare All-Day Saturday

Annual Tulare County 4-H fair will be held Saturday at the Tulare County fairgrounds in Tulare, when 1,600 club members will exhibit their year's projects in competition.

The program will feature livestock showing; finals of a county dress review; a tractor driving contest; judging of home economics projects; judging of garden projects, poultry and rabbit projects and farm and home electric projects; theme will be "To Make The Best Better." Election results will be announced for state convention delegates.

Judging is planned in the morning, lunch will be served at noon in the fair grounds cafeteria, champion tractor driver contest is set for 1:00 p.m. and finals of the dress review at 2:00 p.m.

It is estimated that 4,000 persons will attend this 28th annual 4-H fair.

Great Day

was not performing, here's the dope. Mr. Beatty took his small son, Clyde Jr., to the Porterville city park and relaxed on the grass while young Clyde enjoyed the swings.

So if you were in the city park Tuesday afternoon, you might have been rubbing elbows with one of the nation's top entertainers without knowing it.

And Mr. Beatty made a decision of some consequence before he left town. He was invited on a trout fishing trip, and Hanford thereby came close to losing the circus, since Mr. Beatty would rather fish than do most anything.

He did make plans, however, to get in a morning of fishing next year if he again comes into Porterville on the same schedule as this year.

Sponsor of the circus was the board of the Tulare County Junior Livestock Show and Fair, and the fair netted close to $900 from the circus. Incidentally, sale of general admission and reserve seats ran something over $8,000, quite a chunk of dough, but not so much when you figure that daily overhead for the circus is over $5,000.

Fair board directors learned considerable about the circus business, and if they sponsor the circus again next year, things will run a lot smoother in so far as

GRANDSTAND SHOW

Booked for the professional show is the Marquis family, an internationally known chimpanzee act; Les Hurricanes, a sensational acrobatic adagio act; the Baretis, a high act that features twin sway poles and the Vesses, a top pole balancing act.

FAT STOCK SALE

Junior exhibitors will sell their fat stock at the fair's annual sale the afternoon of May 21; only one fat steer can be sold by an exhibitor; all champions must sell. Harry T. Hardy will call the sale; manager is Rolla Bishop.

COMMERCIAL EXHIBITS

A record number of exhibitors seems assured this year, according to Ernie Cassidy, commercial exhibits superintendent, with more outside displays than ever before. Food concessions, operated by community organizations, will be spotted around the grounds.

KIDDIE RIDES

Blarne Biksford will bring in three kiddie rides from his Kiddie Playland in Bakersfield; the rides are designed for children through elementary school age.

BREAKFAST

Aunt Jemima hotcakes will be served at a free breakfast prior to opening of the fair the morning of May 19. Members of the Por-ticket sale and distribution is concerned.

And it is likely that the circus will return, since afternoon crowd was good, and evening crowd reached turn-away proportions.

Not the least of circus excitement was the unloading Tuesday morning and it was good to see the elephants out working, just as we remember from years back. And there were even circus fans present when the train pulled out about 1:30 o'clock Wednesday morning.

Elephants walking down Olive street gave me quite a shock Tuesday. I'm surprised any of the High School students got to school that day. Most of them were watching the circus unload. Chester Slusser had a field day as the circus is his favorite hobby. He has made a complete miniature circus out of wood, and he knows more about a circus than anyone I know. He complained that the circus Tuesday was too modern, he prefers the old-timers, but he seemed to be enjoying himself.

I'm going to take my Campfire girls to jail Thursday. Chief Kendrick said it would be alright, in fact he encourages groups and classes to come down and see how the police work. I asked him about the youngsters he has to handle through the department and he said that these youngsters that have respect for their parents, seldom come in twice. One 10 year old boy was brought in for some brush with the law, and wouldn't tell his name. "I know my rights, I seen Dragnet and I don't have to tell no cop nothing." The Chief met this argument by suggesting the boy sit in one of the cells until he could cooperate. The youngster didn't think that would be a good idea, and decided to "come clean." The bicycle was returned, and the chief hopes the kid won't be back.

When the parents were called to come get their darling, Mother was insulted. Her baby couldn't do any wrong, and the fact that he had the bicycle in his hot little fist didn't seem to impress her. The Chief says, "when a parent takes sides with their child against the law, when the facts are obviously against the child, it is almost a certainty that that child will be back." Mommy will get him out of any scrape. The mean old policeman doesn't scare Mommy, no how.

Bud Johnson is going to be the juvenile officer for OUR TOWN now that Pete Ferguson is going to greener pastures. Bud placed high in the test for this position, and the chief would like to send him to a training school for this kind of work, but that takes terville junior chamber of commerce are handling this feature, in cooperation with the Quaker Oats company.

Other special features will include the biggest glass of orange juice in the world for 10 cents; a Pacific Telephone and Telegraph exhibit through which long distance calls to any point in the nation will be given away; specially designed displays by a number of local merchants; a showing of the latest in farm equipment and automobiles; a special fun concession operated by the Porterville 20-30 club, and showing of some of California's finest beef cattle, swine and sheep, produced by junior exhibitors in the southeastern Tulare county area.

Directors of the fair will meet tomorrow evening, Friday, at Berkshires to take care of "last minute" details of fair planning.

money and the budget is strained at the moment. Pete was a wonderful officer and worked well with OUR KIDS, and we are sorry he is leaving, but Bud will fill his shoes nicely. Bud is married, has two children, and has been with the force for three years.

Alberta Villegas works at J. C. Penney Co., and if she can get off work on Saturday the audience at the Green Mill will be treated to some authentic Mexican and Spanish dances. This celebration of Cinco de Mayo will be observed on the seventh of May instead of the fifth. It starts at 6:00 with the raising of the flag, and from then on things will be hopping. This is the place to go if you like Mexican food. All the ladies who are experts with tacos, and all the other good things I can't spell, will have booths where you can come and eat till your heart burns. Johnny Rodriguez will be there, and where Johnny is there will be fun and laughter. He is going to broadcast over KTIK when the program starts at around 2:00. Queen Deloras Fabela and Princess Terry Rodriguez will reign, and as usual Mayor Lester Hamilton is going to be there for the fun with other big wheels from OUR TOWN. I know people who have never been to one of the Cinco de Mayo celebrations, and they certainly don't know what they have missed. A bit of Mexico at the Green Mill this Saturday, and, in the evening, Pablo Banuello and his band will play until the wee hours. The doctor ordered Lita Rodriguez to stay home from the fun, but I'll bet her foot will be tapping most

INFORMATION ON COTTON PEST CONTROL READY

The 1955 cotton insect control suggestions are available at the Tulare County Farm Advisors office.

This publication discusses when the insects will possibly appear in the field, when to control, material to use and rates of application by plane or ground rig.

Several insects which caused cotton growers some trouble last year in the county have been included in this year's list of pests.

The annual cotton insect control suggestions are based on the results of research work on cotton insecticides by University of California Entomologists. The control suggestions are not the only ones that can be used according to Farm Advisor Alan George, but are

Pleasant View 4-H Visits Goose Hatchery

By Brenda Santry

The Pleasant View 4-H Club held its Project tour and Educational tour together recently. The group met at the Pleasant View school and projects seen were: Linda Hutchinson, three Hereford steers and an Arabian horse; Ronald and Brenda Santry, sheep; Hank Lingle, Hereford steer; Judy, Peggy and Johnny Taggard, sheep; Lane Starr, steer; Vesta, Frances and Florence Tomvich, chickens; Louis and Pat Callison, sheep; Richard Callison, registered cow and calf; Eric, George and Margo Luker, steers; Ty Sturgeon, rabbits; Morris Fruit Jr., sheep.

For the Educational tour, the group was conducted through Morris Fruit's Goose hatchery. Mr. Fruit took the group to see the huge incubators, where the eggs are put to hatch, explained how the eggs were turned and kept at a certain temperature until hatched. They also saw the fields where the goslings were put until large enough to be sold, or taken out by owner who has taken their eggs there to be hatched.

PORTERVILLE ROUNDUP this year was a good show; roping was good, stock was tough and willing and the Clark Brothers entertained in great fashion. Our own Porterville Canterbelles rode like professionals, even in the Saturday rain. Our compliments to Mr. and Mrs. Carroll Simmons for their efforts and to Mr. and Mrs. George Bastian, as well as other members of the Orange Belt Saddle club.

ONE PORTERVILLE traffic problem is the sauntering pedestrians who stroll back and forth across Main street, particularly in the area around Montgomery Ward store. City planners might give this problem a little thought.

CONCERNING THE May 17 election to decide whether or not the Sierra View Hospital district will or will not be dissolved, it appears to us that the quickest way to get more hospital beds is to dissolve the district. Apparently, there will be no state or federal funds available for Porterville in the immediate future; present owners of the hospital are willing to expand the facility if the threat of a district hospital is taken away. Of course, a district hospital could be built if district directors levy a 20 cent tax for several years. (They have that power, you know.) But, personally, we would rather see private money develop a hospital than to see another 20 cents on our tax bill.

Valencia Oranges Move From District

Valencia oranges are now moving from the southeastern Tulare county area, with "general maturity" announced by the Valencia Orange Administrative committee and with 300 cars allocated for shipment for the week ending April 30.

Also on the Valencia market will be 75 cars from southern California and from 75 to 90 cars of "desert" Valencias from California and Arizona.

TIME OUT

By Davis Harp

It was just a case of who got there firstest with the mostest at the league track meet in Visalia last Friday, in this instance it was the COS Giants who arrived at said point in great numbers and in the least time.

The Giants' sprinters monopolized the 100 and 220 yard dashes as they took the first three places in both races. The PC thinclads made a fine showing in taking second place and scoring 44 points to the Giants' 53. The Pirates' ace pole vaulter, O. B. Hendrix, soared 13 ft. 1 in. to chalk up a new league record in that event. Hendrix set his new mark with the pressure off, he had worked himself out of competition as all of the other pole vaulters went out at 12 ft. 6 in. Kenley Mays was double winner for the Pirates as the lanky transfer from Fresno State took the mile and two mile with little or no competition. Glenn Davis made it his second straight year as the league 880 king, Davis raced to his second championship with his chief rivalry coming from teammates James Gibson and Dick Lawrence.

The Pirate-Taft Cougar baseball game last Monday was an air tight affair until the first inning. From that point it was no contest. The PC outfit nailed a Cougar hide to the field house to the tune of 27-1. Seems the game had some high spots, or low spots as some might call it; Junior Williams, the fiery Pirate third sacker, disagreed with the Cougar's catcher on certain points and they decided to settle with brute force. The umpire finally won the argument and order was restored.

We were over by COS last Monday and came back somewhat bewildered; unless we read wrong, COS has a new name, they seem to have changed it to OKLAHOMA; that was what they had written across the front of their institution of learning. Of course we could be wrong, but we call 'em the way we see 'em.

The Porterville high school Panthers seem to be having a pretty fair season on the diamond. The Panthers' power-packed bats of Windell Bland, Matt Encinas and Mud Mullican, have played old billy with their Southern Yosemite brethren — they now hold the league lead as the last week of play starts. Some fine pitching on the part of Mountie Bedford and Teddie Barnett has accounted for most of the Panther wins. Bedford told us he had decided to beat East Bakersfield last Friday and did as he fashioned a 3-0 shutout over the Blades.

Bedford is a very confident young man, and also one of the finest high school athletes in the valley. Mountie was a fine performer at end on the Panther gridiron machine last fall and after he shed his football pads he became the second top basketball scorer in the league, and at the moment, he is pitching the local high school nine to a championship; pretty fair for a country boy.

SPRINGVILLE NEWS

By Winnie Gage

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Pankey and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Marion Chilton and son have moved here from Porterville and Jim and Marion are running a charcoal kiln and building another, as the oak charcoal is the best for outdoor barbecues, giving an extra flavor to meat.

Fishermen in this community were slowed down by the weather on opening day and Sunday. Slim Washburn Sporting Goods is offering a $5.00 prize in trade each month for the largest trout and for the end of the season a $25.00 fishing outfit for the largest trout.

A birthday dinner honoring Mrs. Carl Myrick was held Sunday in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Myrick. Present were Mr. and Mrs. "Sandy" Myrick of Porterville, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Myrick and "Buddy" Myrick of Castle Air Base, home for a week's furlough, and Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Myrick.

Jack Fees visited in Huntington Beach over the weekend, attending the golden wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Wells.

The Tule River Houndsmen Association held a field trial Sunday at Gill arena. There were nearly 100 in attendance and an estimated 150 dogs entered in the 15 races on coon and lion drags.

Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Ike Rush were Mr. and Mrs. Frank Jones and son Bailey of Bakersfield.

Weekend rain storm brought 1.05 inches of rain, bringing season's total to 17.45; the 1954 total was 17.81 on May 3.

House guest of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Fine is Joe's mother, Mrs. Edith Nicholes of Woodlake.

The 4-H boys and girls are giving a potluck supper on Tuesday, May 10, at the Memorial building with members of the Farm Bureau as guests. The girls will give a fashion show and the boys will show some of their projects and they also have a good program arranged.

DRAMA CLASS PLAY MAY 21

Senior dramatics class at Porterville high school will present its annual children's play, May 21, in the girls' gym at the school. Sandra VanderNoor plays the lead part of Cinderella and David Newman plays the prince in the well-known children's story. Bill Carpenter is directing; Patsy Beattie is student director.

Twelve per cent more fed cattle are being finished for market now than a year ago.

MORE THAN 350 PLANES EXPECTED AT PORTERVILLE

Plans for the observance of Tulare County Aviation days, in conjunction with the Porterville Area Pilots association's annual Moonlight flight on June 4 - 5, are well underway, according to Herb Long of Porterville, president of the organization.

Meetings have been held in Visalia, Lindsay and Porterville with committee members Walker Harris of Tulare, Mr. and Mrs. Clark Fitzgerald and Pat Stetler of Porterville, Bob Chatters of Lindsay, M/Sgt. Richard Mahoney of the U. S. Air Force, and Harold Rainwater, Secretary of the Tulare County chamber of commerce attending.

Other committees in Porterville are preparing for the influx of over 350 private planes which annually visit the city for the flight and for the jet and piston-type military aircraft which will stage flight demonstrations and be on display over the two-day period.

The public is invited to visit the Porterville airport both days for the celebration. There will be a barbecue and dance on Saturday evening and contests between civilian aircraft such as spot landings, paper cutting and balloon breaking, and flyovers and demonstrations by the military on Sunday morning. Also on display will be exhibits from the National Guard and Civil Air Patrol, as well as the newest models of pleasure and executive-type planes for civilian use.

FINS FOR FEATHERS

By Phil The Forester

Rain, wind and snow ganged up to give the anglers throughout the state a bad time for the opening weekend of the trout season. We can't rightfully say "nature protecting its own" because our roadside stocking of catchable size trout is strictly man-made, so we have a case then of the weather man being downright mean to his fellow man.

But, nevertheless, a lot of trout were caught by the thousands who just wouldn't allow the weather to interfere.

An estimated 5,000 people descended upon Shaver Lake for the weekend but some didn't even take their tackle out of the car when they sampled the weather and threatened harder storm. On the other hand, wardens checked many nice catches including several limits.

Generally, the Shaver lake trout were on the small size for some reason, which brings up the question, how come? The rate of growth shown by these fish in the past would indicate there's a natural food shortage. Could be the heavy trout population of the water the last few years has reduced the food to a point of insufficiency. If so, wonder if a program of stocking the little landlocked kokanee salmon in Shaver would bring the rainbow to kamloops size and at the same time provide another game fish.

Fish and game has indicated its intent to try these salmon in Millerton Lake when the new San Joaquin Hatchery is in operation.

Approximately 2,500 fishermen visited Lake Sequoia for the opening weekend and about that same number tried Hume Lake. Rather

OLIVES MAY BE GRAFTED THIS MONTH

By Karl W. Opitz
Farm Advisor

Olives may be grafted from the middle of March through the month of May. Olive bark slips easily and scion wood can be readily obtained at this time. However, after April it is more difficult to find suitable scion wood and the grafts do not start as well.

It is possible to graft olives any time the bark will slip. But during the warm summer months it is difficult to prevent newly inserted scions from drying out or sunburning. Late grafts that do "take" never catch up with the early spring started scions.

Olive grafting is a relatively simple operation. On the other hand, like all tree grafting a good understanding of the principles involved is helpful in getting a good take. A recently revised pamphlet entitled "Olive Grafting" prepared by the Tulare County Farm Advisors Office, Post Office building, Visalia, is available to those wishing to learn how to successfully graft olive trees.

ORGAN PRESENTED TO HOSPITAL

A cabinet organ has been given to the Porterville State hospital by Mr. and Mrs. Marcus Jones of Porterville. The organ will be used in religious services at the hospital, also for programs in hospital wards.

a strange contrast of anglers developed on these two lakes. Sequoia was chemically treated last fall to remove the thousands of green sunfish and restocked with sub-catchables. Anglers enjoyed the fishing, except the weather of course, and accounted for some 2,500 six to nine inch trout, average about seven and a half. From all reports the anglers were quite happy with results and the work accomplished by the department.

Over on Hume, the dam was repaired last fall and in November about 5,000 subcatchables were stocked and then just a week before the opening of the season, 8,000 catchable size six to seven inch rainbow were added. Reports were that the fishermen were quite unhappy, wanting to know where all the fish were.

The warm water fishing ponds on the Los Banos State Refuge that were opened to public fishing last Saturday were well patronized with anglers taking an average of 6.2 fish each of bass, crappie, bluegill, etc.

same program; he will be in the San Joaquin valley the latter part of August.

While in Great Britain, Mr. Faure will be a guest of the Federated Young Farmers' club. Following three months in the program, he will have two weeks to travel in Europe.

He will leave New York City on the Queen Mary June 6; he will return on the Queen Elizabeth September 8.

Mr. Faure this week completed his year's term as president of state Future Farmers.

Cloud Seeding

from irrigation districts, whose watersheds lay within the target areas, and from supervisors of both Kern and Tulare counties, who contributed funds from the unappropriated reserves to help protect the 75 million dollar annual cattle and grain industry whose welfare depends almost exclusively upon the incidence of overhead moisture.

The first flight of the season was made on November 11. By January 21, 1955, a total of 60 hours had been flown with exceptionally good results, in fact, moisture conditions were such that operations were suspended on request of ranchers whose fields were over-taxed by standing water. Flights were resumed in mid-February and by the end of the month an additional 40 hours of air time had been registered. For

Rescue Equipment For Sheriff

A panel truck, trailer and life-saving equipment is now being operated by Tulare County Sheriff Sandy Robinson, the $3,000 unit obtained through contributions by citizens of the county. Designed primarily for rescue work for hunters, fishermen and vacationists, the equipment can be used for many purposes. It includes axes, shovels, first aid material, lights, a Stokes basket, blankets, basic food supplies, a gas stove, two-way radio equipment and a walkie-talkie.

the next 50 days, the planes were again grounded, this time by Mother Nature, who provided no opportunity at all for the seeding-craft to take to the aid.

During the prolonged dry spell, which extended throughout the entire Western states areas, much of the feed in the lower foothills and early plantings of grain suffered damage, but apparently not to the extent of most other regions, since surveys reveal the Tulare county area to be one of the few sections in the western district where conditions are described as being satisfactory. Along this line it is interesting to note that reports show that very few cattle have left this area to go into feed lots because of insufficient feed on home ranges.

No doubt, results obtained from the early seedings played an important part in helping our crops weather the drought period. At the time the dry spell set in, the area under precipitation work showed approximately 30 per cent more moisture than areas adjacent to it. At the present time, figures are not yet available to make an evaluation report for the entire six-month program. The final and official report will be made as soon as information and data necessary to compile the report is made available through the publication of the Climatological bulletins.

Directors of the Southern Sierra group have expressed their appreciation for the support and interest given the program by the people of the two counties. It is their intentions to reinstitute the weather modification program again during the next season, which will mark the sixth year that a cloud-seeding program will be in effect, the primary purpose of which is to protect the multi-million dollar agricultural industry which has made this area the third richest farming district in the world.

Cotton Dress Judging May 11; Modeling May 13

Judging of dresses in the cotton dress contest that is being sponsored by the Tulare County Cotton industry in connection with the Porterville Junior Livestock Show and Fair, is scheduled for the evening of May 11, at 7:00 o'clock, in room 309 at Porterville High School.

At this time judges will inspect dresses for workmanship and design; girls who entered dresses will model them the evening of May 13 in the Girls' gym at the high school.

Dresses entered must be made of cotton; three age groups have been set up — 10 years through 12; 13 through 15, and 16 through 18. Two dresses can be entered by girls competing in each age group — a party dress and a school dress. Cash prizes will be awarded by the cotton industry to winners; all girls entering will receive an admission ticket to the Porterville fair.

Judges are: Mary Wilcox, Chris Jackson and Louise Hutchinson. Dresses may be entered at the Home Economics room of Porterville high school up to 7:00 p.m., May 10; entry blanks can be obtained from The Farm Tribune office in Porterville.

Elks Will Play Ball And Dance For Band Benefit

Porterville Elks have a hectic Saturday in store, as certain alleged softball players meet a team from the Tulare Elks lodge at Porterville municipal field at 7:00 p.m., after which a dance is planned at the Porterville lodge, with the Porterville Elks band providing music.

All proceeds from the ball game and dance will go into a band benefit fund by which the Porterville band will be sent to the 1955 State Elks' convention.

Managing the Porterville Elks' ball team is Porterville's greatest has-been, Harry Britton, who is reaching deep into the past to bring forth such ex-"stars" as Jess Eckles, Bill White, Al Browning, Bill Rodgers, Dick Shuler, Jim Grigsby, Jim Barber, and somewhat later "stars" as Leroy Hunsaker, Jim Carlisle and Oscar Ross.

Pitching will be Bill Buckley, who still has plenty of hop on the old apple; catching will be George Carter. An injury suffered during a fishing trip will fortunately keep Pete Hemphill on the sidelines.

In a direct quote, Britten said, "If Buckley can pitch a no hitter, my boys will be able to hold down the score to some extent."

Preceding the ball game, a footrace, catch as catch can at 50 yards, will match Dick Shuler and Jim Barber, both claiming to be former track champions.

FINAL TALENT CONTEST SET FOR 4-H FAIR

The finals of the county talent contest will take place during the dress review at the Tulare County 4-H Club fair, on Saturday afternoon, May 7, in Elliott auditorium, Tulare fairgrounds. Winners of this event will compete in the regional contest at Fresno on May 21, for the right to compete in the state and a trip to the National 4-H Club congress in Chicago this fall.

Finalists were selected in a preliminary contest held at the 4-H Carnival and Barbecue at Mooney Grove early in April. Individual numbers presented by southeastern county members, will include a violin solo, Leonette Brixey, and "Siamese Cats" by Bonnie and Eileen Traylor, Vandalia.

The public is invited to this event as well as to all of the 4-H Fair. Admission is free. Judging of livestock and other agricultural exhibits will take place from 9:00 a.m. to noon. The finals of the tractor driving contest, always a popular event, will be at 1:00 p.m. The dress review contest and the talent contest will begin at 2:00 p.m.

Former Wrestler Will Speak At Weekend Meetings

A former professional wrestler, Theodore "Tiny" E. Roebuck, now a Christian youth speaker, will be heard twice in Porterville this weekend. On Saturday night at 7:45 he will be heard at the Youth for Christ Rally at the Woman's Clubhouse, and on Sunday night at 8:00 he will be heard at the Evangelical United Brethren church.

"Tiny" Roebuck is a giant in stature, but he was also a giant in the field of athletics in three major sports, football, boxing and wrestling. Following his graduation from Haskell Institute of Lawrence, Kansas, he entered professional football, also professional wrestling.

In 1950 he became a Christian, and since has given his testimony to Christian youth concerning his DEBORAH McCANN, of Bakersfield, who has been judged the national "Miss Sunbeam of 1955", after winning a contest in which thousands of girls competed throughout the United States. Judging was on a basis of resemblance to "Miss Sunbeam", the famous trademark on Sunbeam bread. Miss McCann, who was honored at a luncheon last week at the El Tejon in Bakersfield, given by G. L. Hildebrand, of Porterville, president of Sunbeam bakeries in this area, will be flown to Paris, with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Dixon McCann. She will also share in $36,000 worth of prizes.

NEW MEMBERS ADDED TO CHAMBER

In the past two weeks, six new members have been added to the Porterville chamber of commerce, it was reported at last week's meeting of directors.
